EMPEROR WILLIAM SENDS CONGRATULATIONS TO OLDFIELD.

Marriott and Stanley Brothers Also Extend Greetings to the Speed King.

It did not take many hours for the news of Barney Oldfield's great record drive to flash round the world.

A cable was received last night for the speed king from Emperor Wilhelm of Germany reading: "Congratulations to a daring yankee for such a wonderful performance with a German car." Hemmery, the mighty European pilot in the favorite racing driver of the Kaiser's and has been commissioned many times to look after the delivery of cars to his Majesty, who never drove any car but the Benz.

The mile standing start record which Oldfield broke Wednesday was held by Hemmery and the monster Benz which Barney drove was the identical car with which Hemmery established the record.

Oldfield prizes the cablegram highly.

Telegrams of congratulation were pouring in all day yesterday to Oldfield on his record drive. Not the least appreciated were wires from Marriott who held the record with the Stanley steamer and from the Stanley Brothers who built the car. Both expressed admiration for the combination of Oldfield and the Benz and wished Barney much luck in the future.

George Robertson the great road driver and winner of the Vanderbilt Cup race, who is to drive Christie's car in the big speed carnival, March 22, 23 and 24, received a wire last night announcing the death of the father of his fiancée in Brooklyn and left for New York this morning.

Mr. Christie will look after the workouts of the car until the night of the 21st, when Robertson will return to take charge of the speed monster.

Ralph DePalma and Caleb Bragg are still in Daytona and will remain here for several days, possibly until the speed carnival. DePalma and Official Timer Warner have sent the timing sheets and surveyors certificate to the officials of the American Automobile Association and the records will doubtless be placed to Oldfield's credit before Chairman Butler leaves for Daytona to officiate next week.

David Llewellyn Bruce-Brown and his 120 horse power Benz will be on the beach daily with a number of others until the races. Oldfield does not feel the need of further practice and is putting in his time bathing, hunting and fishing.

MADE PLEASANT TRIP UP THE TOMOKA RIVER.

A boat party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Brown (house-boaters) Dr. and Mrs. Bigelow, Seabreeze, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman, Mrs. A. ## REGULAR MEETING OF THE PALMETTO CLUB.

AFTERNOON IN CHARGE OF THE PHILANTHROPIC DEPARTMENT.

The regular meeting of the Palmetto Club was held on Thursday. The afternoon was in charge of the Philanthropic Department.

The program was opened with Killarney, by the Palmetto Orchestra.

The President introduced Mrs. White as chairman of the Department.

Mrs. White gave a very short sketch of the work, and spoke very feelingly of Mrs. Laurence Thompson, who was at the head of the work for so many years.

Mr. Donnelly, accompanied by Miss William, gave two violin solos—A—Resignation; B—Minuet, by Bethoven, and responded to a very hearty applause with Kathleen Mauvereen.

Mrs. White then introduced Mrs. Searly, ex-Stat President of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Iowa, who gave an interesting talk on the good women's clubs are accomplishing, and told of the work done in Iowa. She also spoke of the California and Florida clubs.

Mrs. Searly has a pleasing voice and her talk was listened to with interest.

Mr. Sengstak, always a favorite, accompanied by Mrs. Huston, charmed his listeners with his flute, playing that old beautiful song, The Last Rose of Summer.

Major Downing, on his famous violin, accompanied by Mrs. Downing, played Moore's Melodies, and responded to an encore with an Irish Jig, played only as the Major can.

Dr. Leland said when he was asked for a paper, his muse appeared and told him he could not say anything new on Philanthropy, and gave him three short stories to relate, which were listened to with interest and the members of the Palmetto Club hope his muse will help to entertain them another day.

Mrs. Stillman announced there would be a meeting of the Civic Department at ten o'clock Friday morning, the 18th; that the Child Actors would give an entertainment from 3:30 to 4:30 Friday afternoon.

Mr. Lane, accompanied by Miss Blackmore, sang an Irish Love Song and as an encore, Shoozy Shoo.

Being St. Patrick's Day, the room was beautifully decorated with green, and the charming young Misses Frances Farrell and Margaret Plum, passed tiny images of St. Patrick, bound to a shamrock, souvenirs presented by Mrs. Cordis and Mrs. Wells, the hostesses of the afternoon, who also provided cream and cake to refresh the members during the social hour which closed a very delightful afternoon.

PORCH CLIMBERS ARE STILL OPERATING.

WINTER RESIDENCE OF G. H. HULETT ENTERED LAST NIGHT.

The residence of G. H. Hulett, on North Ridgewood avenue, was entered last night and money and jewelry stolen.

The robbery occurred in the early evening while the family and a few friends were engaged in playing cards in the sitting room on the north side of the house.

Some time between seven and eight o'clock the thief climbed to the second story by means of some wire netting suspended on the porch as a support for vines and flowers.

Only one room was entered, but from it the robber secured a valuable diamond ring, a gold watch and gold bracelet and two pocket books. One of the pocket books contained some money and small trinkets, while in the other there was about twenty dollars in money and a check, or draft, made payable to Mrs. C. A. Hodges, Mrs. Hulett's sister, of Marietta, Ohio, who is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hulett.

The bracelet and the other pocket book were the property of another guest, Miss Mary Warner, of Unionville, Ohio.

The watch had the name "Nettie" engraved upon it, which may furnish a clue to its recovery. The ring was one that had belonged to a daughter, now deceased, of Mrs. Hodges, and was treasured because of the association.

The several robberies that have occurred recently should put all householders upon their guard. In almost every case reported the houses have been entered by day or in the early evening, while the occupants were at dinner, or engaged in some social manner, the thieves seeming to belong to that class of criminals usually termed "porch climbers."

ELKS' CHARITY BALL AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

The third charity ball of the Elks was held at the Ridgewood Hotel last night. About forty couples were in attendance and a delightfully cool evening, laden with light zephyrs, made the evening for dancing ideal.

The ballroom was artistically decorated with Elks' insignias, American flags and purple and white streamers, intertwined so as to form a lattice effect across the ceiling.

Cakes and punch were served from a long table delicately trimmed with miniature electric lights and artificial vines.

Dancing ended at midnight.

ROOSEVELT SPENT MORNING WRITING MANY LETTERS.

PARTY WILL EMBARK TO-NIGHT
AT HALFA FOR ASSUAN, ARRIVING THERE SUNDAY.

ABUHAMED, Sudan, March 18 — After a night run over the desert the special train bearing Colonel Roosevelt and family arrived here this morning. The Colonel spent the morning writing many letters. The train reaches Halfa at nine tonight, where the party embarks on a boat for Assuan, arriving there Sunday.

RESIDENCE BURGLARIZED ON SOUTH RIDGEWOOD AVENUE.

The winter residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Gardner and their son, F. C. Gardner and family, South Ridgewood avenue, was entered while the family was at dinner Tuesday evening and several articles of jewelry and a pocket book containing 75 cents belonging to George, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gardner, were taken.

Mrs. Hollister and Mrs. Taft, friends of the family who are spending the winter at Ormond were visiting with them at the time and Mrs. Hollister lost a valuable gold pin set with pearls and diamonds and Miss Taft a small silver pin, while Mrs. B. H. Gardner suffered the loss of a gold watch and chain, which had been her sister's and which she valued highly for that reason.

The burglars evidently entered at the front door and passed through the sleeping rooms on the second floor, taking articles from the dressers in each room.

The servant saw a man climbing down the lattice at the rear of the house and gave the alarm, but before the diners could get outside he had disappeared. A maid servant of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Seaman says she met a white man running northward at about the time of this occurrence. The ladies did not discover the loss of the articles until the following morning, however, and but little was said of the burglary.

MISS KATHERINE MORTON AT THE CRYSTAL THEATRE

In addition to the regular run of moving pictures the Crystal Theatre has presented to the public Miss Katherine Morton whose fine soprano voice and charming presence have captivated her audiences.

There is also the usual illustrated song and excellent music furnished by Wood's Orchestra, making a very delightful program for an evening entertainment.

Miss Amy Parker arrived Thursday night from Dayton, Ohio, for a month visit with C. N. Pence and family, on South Palmetto avenue.

SENATOR DANIEL STILL HOLDS THREAD OF LIFE.

CONGRESS IN SESSION LONG, WEARY HOURS.

FIGHT ON THE NORRIS RESOLUTION STILL CONTINUES. BOTH FACTIONS EXPRESSING EQUAL CONFIDENCE OF VICTORY.

WASHINGTON, March 18 — With the allied forces of insurgents and democrats claiming a majority of seven votes in overturning the Cannon rules whenever the question is put to the House by the speaker, and the regulars expressing equal confidence, the fighting for delay over the night deadlock was continued at ten this morning.

Enough belated congressmen wandered into the chamber to justify expectation that active hostilities would be resumed. From 3:00 a. m., there has been a lull, groups from both sides snatching food and sleep. During most of the time Speaker Cannon, haggard but undaunted, held the gavel ready to checkmate any unexpected movement of the enemies.

Representatives Norris, Cooper, Murdock, and Gardner, ringleaders of the House insurgents, were present all the time hoping for an opportunity to again clip Cannon's wings. Representatives Olmstead, Butler and Dwight, the republican whip, were constantly near the speaker, ready to support him in any crisis.

Speaker Cannon sought his rooms shortly before nine this morning for a little sleep.

At 9:30 this morning the war of the insurgents and democrats against the Cannon organization was still on in the House, which had been in continuous session for over nineteen hours with no prospect of adjournment.

During the night regular attempts to force adjournment were blocked by the opposition. Members are sleeping on desks and in the cloak rooms, Cannon awaiting the arrival of regulars in the hope of defeating the Norris Rules Committee resolution.

Cannon returned to the chamber at noon and said "Chair will hear the gentleman from Iowa (Smith, republican) and will then shortly rule."

Smith defended his yesterday's vote favoring organization. Cannon turned the gavel over to Olmstead. Representative Campbell also defended the old rules, meanwhile a committee of democrats, insurgents and regulars, tried to reach a compromise. Mrs. Taft is in the gallery.

PENNSYLVANIA FIRES RESULT IN LIFE AND PROPERTY LOSS.

SUPPOSED TO BE OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN — TWO CHURCHES DESTROYED.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., March 18 — Fires started almost simultaneously in various sections of the town today caused a loss of $150,000, and the death of Mrs. John Miller, who died after being removed while ill, from a burning house. The First Methodist church, First Presbyterian Church, Central planing mill and five residences were destroyed. The fire is believed to have been the work of incendiaries and John Earl and Abe Reed have been arrested on suspicion.

Mrs. Agnes F. Brown, Miss Daisy Miles and Charles Martin, of Rochester, N. Y., arrived Thursday afternoon from Palm Beach and will spend two or three weeks here with friends at the Ellenwood rooming house on Volusia avenue.

Wonderful Vitality of the Noted Virginia Senator Alone Responsible.

Asked if he felt better Senator Daniel this morning answered one of the attending physicians, "Yes." This is the first word the Senator has spoken since he passed into the state of coma three days ago. He made an effort to raise his right hand to his mouth this morning but the effort was in vain. Doctors say that if he continues to improve during the next twenty-four hours as he has in the last twelve, there may be one chance in many of his recovery. If, however, he shows no further improvement by tomorrow morning the end will probably come quickly say the physicians. E. M. Daniel, the son, and faithful wife remain by the bedside of the noted Virginian, during the long hours of every night and watch with bated breath for any signs that might signify a change for the better. The Senator recognizes no one and the greatest hope of the family and friends is that he may regain consciousness long enough to bid farewell. This may occur even at the last moments as life is about to expire. In addition to taking nourishment fairly well today there is a slight lessening of the coma over last night and at times a faint trace of returning consciousness. The temperature of his body is nearer normal and his pulse condition is satisfactory. His kidneys continue to do their work fairly well.

With wonderful tenacity Senator Daniel still holds to the thread of life although he has been lying at Dr. Bohannon's private hospital in a state of coma near unto death. His remarkable vitality astonishes the attending physicians and only his strong physique is responsible for life still lingering. The doctors state that in cases of such remarkable vitality patients suffering from cerebral hemorrhage have been known to live two weeks under such a state of coma as now ensnrouds Senator Daniel.

Messages of condolence from all over the country are pouring in to members of the family and the local telegraph office which usually is closed at eight o'clock is being held open all night, and an extra operator has been added to handle the messages.

Groups of Confederate veterans all over the South are eagerly watching for news of the condition of the Senator, who is held in high esteem and much affection by the old warriors, who recount the days when Senator Daniel was Chief of Staff to General Jubal A. Early. Many distinguished visitors have been stricken while here but never before has the effect on the residents been the same as in the case of Senator Daniel.

By L. C. DEMAREE.
One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom fleck-ed with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon the beautiful surface. Take out your fief glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artists' brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms;
see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryp-togramous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another, so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering,
"What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,
—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.
Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and Squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and know into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round you are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.
The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbukto, and you will be "shown."
Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power, up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from acanter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours.
The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

PROGRESSIVE NEW SMYRNA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the State of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the State is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

New Smyrna has no bonded indebtedness and the tax levy is low. A point that no tourist should fail to visit is the ruins of the Old Spanish Mission which stand somber and alone about one and a quarter miles southwest of New Smyrna. A good road leads to the place and the trip can be easily made by an automobile. Silent, in the great pine flats by the margin of the forest, is this place of pilgrimage for the pious; this rendezvous for the picnicker. The ruins are extensive, and while there is no authentic history of their origin, it is presumed that the Mission was built by the Franciscans in the days when the once powerful Kingdom of Spain first planted its flag upon what is now American soil. It was built of coquina, the roof being of the same material, cut into thin slabs and covered with cement plaster. Extensive gardens surrounded it, which were enclosed by a stone wall, portions of which still remain. Visitors usually come in parties merry and curious but the spell of the place soon falls upon them and they separate to sit alone, silent and meditative, under the arches or beside the ancient well.

CORONADO

Is situated on the peninsula opposite New Smyrna and is connected by a good road and bridge over the deep current of Indian River. Here you can put aside your conventional garb, breathe in large and deep the salty tonic of the sea and enjoy yourself to your heart's content with rod and reel in row or sail boat or in the ocean surf a short half-mile away. The great varieties of fish inhabiting the river and lagoon pass through the channel from the sea beneath the bridge. From verandas, upper balconies and windows you behold the magnificent river, the distant lagoons and islands, the forest-covered peninsula and the vast reaches of the Atlantic Ocean.

HAWKS PARK

A pretty village located along the ridge above the Indian River two and one-half miles south of New Smyrna and connected with fine shell roads. There is the appearance of newness, comfort and seclusion about the place which stamps it as the abode of people who come here to enjoy the blessings of outdoor life away from places where crowds are apt to gather.

ORMOND-ON-THE-HALIFAX

ORMOND is five miles north of Daytona, located on the western bank of the Halifax River. The location of the town permits of good drainage and perfect sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Ormond Beach.

Many fine residences are maintained on either side of the river, most of them embellished with sub-tropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

The town is very cosmopolitan, has an excellent graded school, several churches, a fine public library, up-to-date places of business and comfortable and convenient hotels and boarding houses.

Ormond has many of the Florida attractions—fine fruit, good fishing, excellent automobilism, safe boating, salubrious climate and pleasant walks and drives.

At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, the Bretton Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax River, while the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

The walks in all directions are particularly attractive, and the arbors, shady and inviting spots and romantic nooks are crowded with rustic seats which are mute invitations to enter into the enjoyment thereof.

Besides the broad, smooth ocean beach there are many drives for carriage or automobile—long drives and short drives; drives through groves of golden oranges; drives through dense tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway built by the slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of hospitable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of these interesting plantations is Number Nine, located on the peninsula, five miles north of the Hotel Ormond. Here you see a fine orange grove, together with great varieties of other sub-tropical fruits and flowers.

Five miles further on you come to Moundgrove, one of the finest orange groves in this section of Florida. Moundgrove is on the headwaters of the Halifax River and is amid pretty surroundings. The place is reached by a good road [passing Number Nine] and is a drive all tourists may enjoy.

DELAND, THE ATHENS OF FLORIDA

DELAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At Deland is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational Deland is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. Deland proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominant products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute. From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland to Lake Helen, a like distance.

Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY

The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

Dr. J. E. Rawlings left this morning on a trip to various points in the interior of the State. He expects to return to Daytona next week.

*The Big Auto will make a trip to DeLand on Monday leaving P. O. corner at 9:00 o'clock. Fare $2.00 for round trip. 18-2t

Mrs. Carl G. Wehner returned Thursday night from Jacksonville, to which city she had accompanied her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Will Wehner, on her return to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Breckwoldt, of Dolgeville, N. Y., who have been located for a time on South Beach St., departed this morning for New York City, where they will spend two or three weeks before going on to Dolgeville. They are a bridal couple and Mrs. Breckwoldt, a cousin of Mrs. A. McF. Porter, of this city, has visited Daytona several previous seasons.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' BASKET TEAMS PLAY TO LARGE CROWD

The Girls' and Boys' basket ball game and dance at the Armory on Thursday night furnished a pleasant evening for the large crowd in attendance.

A spirited game between the two girls' teams opened the exhibition. Both teams made a fine start, the score at the end of the first half standing 6 to 5 in favor of the Daytona team. During the second half the Daytona team, put on their mettle by the good playing of the High School, made a change in their line-up and succeeded in preventing the High School from making a single goal, the score standing at the end of the game, 18 to 5 in favor of Daytona.

The two boys' teams, Daytona and Athletics, followed with a game that was snappy and full of "moving incidents" throughout. Some good field balls as well as catches were made. The teams are fairly evenly matched, though Daytona developed more strength last night. At the end of the first half the score stood 10 to 9 in favor of Daytona. At the close of the game the score stood 21 to 14 in favor of Daytona.

NEW YORKERS PICNIC AT THE INLET TODAY.

A large party of residents and visitors from the Empire State boarded the steamer Uncle Sam this morning bound for the Inlet and a picnic dinner at Ponce Park. While not advertised as a strictly New York State party, it practically amounted to a reunion of people from that State, as a general invitation was extended to all New Yorkers to attend and there were persons present from both sides of the river.

His Perfect English.
 "Did you ever notice anything peculiar in Professor W.'s speech?" inquired a friend of the professor's.
 "Why, no; I don't think I did."
 "Well, he would never be guilty of saying what you said just now."
 "He wouldn't? What did I say?"
 "You said 'I don't think I did.'"
 "Is there anything out of the way about that?"
 "Yes. You didn't say what you meant at all. You didn't mean that you didn't think, but that you thought you didn't. Professor W. is so careful that he says exactly what he means and nothing else. You do not mean that you do not think when you say that, but that you do think that such and such is not. Nearly everybody does that, so it sounds queer when people speak as the professor does and say 'I think I don't' instead of 'I don't think I do,' as the average individual would say. Another of the professor's idiosyncrasies is to say 'I'll not' where you or I would say 'I won't.' All those little ways sound queer, but they're absolutely correct and irreproachable. The professor uses more perfect English than any one else I know."—New York Press.

Bribery in English Elections.
 Bribery is a term which every candidate for a seat in the imperial assembly dreads, for the law visits offenders against it with very heavy punishment, and more than one politician has realized that the game is not worth the candle.
 The would be M. P. must be very careful not to give, lend or promise money or money's worth to induce an elector to vote for him or abstain from voting for an opponent. Neither must he pay the day's wages of any voter or give him money for railway fares or loss of time. If he does and is elected the candidate loses his seat, and both he and the recipient of his ill advised gift are liable to twelve months' imprisonment or a fine not exceeding £200. Even treating the wives or relatives of electors may constitute an offense, and the quantity is immaterial if the intention is corrupt.
 The withdrawal of custom from a tradesman, if done with a view to affecting the man's vote, constitutes undue influence, for which the punishment is the same as in the case of bribery.—Pearson's Weekly.

Oddities of Color Blindness.
 While the number of color blind persons is not very large, only about five in every hundred suffering from any defect in this respect and most of those being affected only in a minor degree, yet the phenomenon sometimes assumes very remarkable phases.
 An oculist states that he found two persons who possessed monochromatic vision—that is to say, all colors appeared to them to be simply different shades of gray. If the reader will look at a photograph of a landscape, or better, of a garden filled with brilliant flowers, he will be able to form an idea of the appearance which nature must present to one who suffers from the infliction called monochromatic vision.

Spinning an Egg.

One of Lord Kelvin's favorite experiments while teaching natural philosophy at the University of Glasgow was to spin an egg which was suspended in the air. If the egg were hard boiled it would spin a long time; otherwise, owing to the friction between its contents and its shell, its motion would soon cease. Lord Kelvin inferred from this that the interior of the earth cannot be a fluid or the globe's rate of rotation would have been checked long ago. Once the students substituted raw eggs for the hard boiled ones provided for the experiment. Not one would spin properly, but Lord Kelvin was not to be fooled. "None of them boiled," was his only comment.

Dear Soap.
 New Lodger (sarcastically)—Is this all the soap there is in the room? Landlady (decidedly)—Yes, sir; all I will allow you. New Lodger—Well, I'll take two more rooms. I've got to wash my face in the morning.—Illustrated Bits

NEWS ABOUT ORMOND AND ORMOND RESIDENTS AND SOJOURNERS TOLD IN INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS.

S. C. Briggs, the well known fisherman, returned to Buffalo, N. Y., Wednesday.

W. F. Perkins and wife, of Wakefield, Mass., are stopping a few days at Mildred Lodge.

Mrs. G. H. Hollister and family have been spending the week at Daytona attending the races.

H. B. Terry, of Hyde Park, Mass., a friend of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Lewis, is stopping at Rose Villa.

Edwin McNeal, of Augusta, Kansas, is visiting his brother Milo, at the McNeal home on Highland avenue.

E. A. Lapp, of Bulow, was in Ormond Thursday with the Grandma. He expects to enter the St. Augustine boat race.

Mrs. F. E. Fitz and Lou Roberts and her father, David Slade, returned to Wakefield, Mass., after several weeks' sojourn at Mildred Lodge.

There was another fully attended scalp whist party at the V. I. A. Tuesday night. Miss Florence Putnam and Mrs. George Howe were hostesses.

Major D. W. Lewis has been having his river lot surveyed. This property fronts on the river 81 feet, and runs back to Yonge street, cornering on Dix avenue. It offers a fine spot for some one to build on.

The Australian Stock Whip.
 The stock whip in the skillful hands of the Australian is not only an article of the greatest utility, but also a formidable weapon. Owing to its great length—the lash varies from twelve to thirty feet—and the shortness of the butt, which measures only eighteen inches, it is an extremely difficult and awkward thing to wield, and the beginner is apt to hurt himself if he does not exercise care when practicing. A well trained stockman, however, can hit a cent every time at ten paces distance and with the dreaded lash in his hand, cracking like pistol shots, can keep a mob of wild cattle in check. If used with full force it will cut through skin and flesh like a knife, says the Wide World Magazine, but unless a beast shows distinct vice the stockman uses it more for the purpose of instilling fear than of causing pain. It can also be used as a bolas, a Patagonian form of the lasso, and an adept can catch and hold a beast by causing the lash to curl around its legs.

Luck of Peacock Feathers.
 The peacock's feathers superstition is nothing like so common as it used to be. Perhaps Whistler's celebrated peacock room helped to break it down. At any rate, peacock's feathers are ordinary enough articles of decoration in many happy and placid homes. There are shops in London that keep large stocks of them, and you may buy these bringers of misfortune at a shilling a bundle. Did the superstition originate because of the reported pride of the peacock on the "pride shall have a fall" theory, or is it that the "eye" of the feather is supposed to see undesirable happenings which somehow get published upon the house-tops? One rather feels that the beautiful tail was nature's compensation to the bird for giving it the most abominable of all voices.—London Chronicle.

An Insinuating Missive.
 He was a German student, and this was the letter he addressed to his uncle:

Dear Uncle—A very strange thing happened yesterday. I went to see a friend of mine at the bank who knows your handwriting very well, and he thought you were ill, as I had not lately presented any checks signed by you. He begs to be remembered to you, as also do I, and you might let my friend see your signature again. If you are very busy, you might send a blank check, and I will fill it in. Yours affectionately, KARL.

Unusual.
 "Don't you like the book?"
 "No. I think the heroine is a most impossible creature."
 "Is that so?"
 "Yes. She doesn't appear to have a single gown of some simple material that enhanced rather than hid her graceful figure!"—Exchange.

Heart to Heart Talks.
 By EDWIN A. NYE.

OUR TRIVIAL WORRIES.

"This is the only thing that bothers me just now. If I could only see my way through this I would not worry over anything."

Thus spoke a friend of mine. More than most men he was usually of a sunny disposition. He had a fine family, good health, was successful and stood high in the community.

Had I been asked to name one who is more than ordinarily free from useless repinings I should have named him.

And here he was in a morbid state of mind over a small matter.

I began to tell him of some of the sorrows I had heard about that day—tragedies, heart wrenchings, the real griefs that whiten men's hair and shorten their days.

Then I placed his little tremble by the side of these sufferings.

He saw the point.

Had some real sorrow gripped his heart his minor trouble would have paled into nothingness. Yet he was foolishly spending time and strength on something that by comparison was of small consequence.

Which was very human-like.

We select the brief anxieties and magnify them into large importance rather than look for the brief joys to magnify them into great happiness.

We fail to count our blessings.

We are too busy counting our griefs. And yet we laugh a thousand times where we cry once. The good things that enrich our lives are at our elbows.

The world is so full of a number of things I am sure we should all be as happy as kings.

But we are not happy largely because of our point of view. We have a foreboding of trouble, and trouble comes. Is it not true that if we expect the best it will also come to us?

Fate is keen eyed. If you smile into her face as she passes by she is apt to throw a smile over her shoulder at you. If you knit your brows at her she will scowl back at you. If you weep she is a mighty cold comforter. And she reserves her best encouragement for the brave.

"Care killed a cat."

Worry kills men and women.

And most of our worries are over matters that, measured by the side of weighty woes, are only trivial.

Diplomatic Politeness.
 There are two kinds of politeness, politeness to yourself and politeness to others.
 When you come home late at night, for example, even if you are very tired, always remove your hat and coat before getting into bed. It is little attentions like this that constitute you a gentleman. At the same time, do not disturb your wife if you can possibly avoid it. It is the height of rudeness to awaken a sleeping lady.—Thomas L. Masson in Lippincott's.

Confidence.
 Mr. Golding—So you want to marry my daughter. Do you think that you can support her in the style to which she has been accustomed? Jack Winsome—No, sir, but I can support her in a good deal better style than you lived in the first five years after you were married.—Somerville Journal.

An Easier Dose.
 Johnny—The medicine ain't so nasty as it useter be, mommer. I'm gettin' used to it. Mommer—Do you take a whole spoonful every hour? Johnny—No'm; I couldn't find a spoon, so I'm usin' a fork.—Cleveland Leader.

A Nice, Cheerful Companion.
 "I am an advocate of hunting for women," said a titled Englishman. "Women's mounts enliven the field. But no huntress should ever take advantage of her sex. That is most annoying. For instance:
 "A friend of mine on a cold, gray morning in January was dashed into by a woman on the edge of a stream. His horse slipped, and horse and rider together rolled down the bank and were submerged in six feet of icy water. But the lady came off better. She only lost her hat in the brook.
 "As my friend, shivering, gasping and dripping, crept out the lady said: 'Oh, I'm so sorry I bumped you! And now would you mind going in again for my hat?'"

BEING A HERO.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.)

Ebenezer Schermerhorn, a farmer's hired man, was in love with the Widow Tompkins, whose farm adjoined that of his boss on the west. Ebenezer was twenty-four years old, plain of face and ungainly of form and without $100 worth of property. The widow was less than forty and well off. Ebenezer was rated as good hearted, but rather dull. One evening as he dropped in to see the widow about borrowing some farm implements next day he found her reading a love story. She read a few chapters to him and afterward acknowledged that she had always been romantic and that if she ever married again it would be to a hero. The farmer's hired man didn't rush right off that night and try to be a hero, but sat down to think.

Three or four days after Ebenezer's thinking bee a tramp came along the road and, seeing the young man hoeing corn just over the fence, halted for a word or two. Ordinarily Ebenezer would have leaped the fence and run the wayfarer half a mile, but on this occasion he invited him over into the corn and sat down with him for a confidential conversation. The result of that conversation was that at 8 o'clock that evening the tramp appeared before the Widow Tompkins and made threats of what he would do if she didn't set out victuals, hunt up old clothes and come down with a dollar in cash. Ebenezer was not far away, just far enough to come running up and knock the tramp head over heels and rescue the widow. But as he started to come running he fell down and got tangled up with the bushes, and before he could get away the widow had broomsticked the tramp into flight. She didn't say she was glad that the would be hero was so near at hand. What she did say was that she wasn't afraid of any old tramp walking the roads.

Ebenezer's first try was a failure, but within a fortnight he was ready for another. Behind the farms ran a river. The widow had a skiff on the water and often rowed herself up and down. One night the farmer's hired man took some tools down to the landing and was busy for an hour. Two evenings later, just at sundown, he saw the widow making across the field for the river, and he was not long in following her. He expected to hear cries for help, but they did not come. He expected to find a woman clinging to a swamped boat, but he didn't. She was wading ashore when he arrived on the bank and dashed in, and all he got out of it was a good sousing and a cold in the head.

A cold in the head casts a man down for a few days, but if there be any hero about him he rallies and becomes more daring than ever. Ebenezer rallied. Two or three farmhouses in the township had been robbed, and this fact became the basis for his third plan. One night at midnight he left his bed, descended to earth by way of a window, and, armed with a club, he became a guard for the widow's house. He circled around it and patrolled the garden and the orchard, and he felt that he would give a year of his life if a robber would appear. He would first tell him and then arouse the house and when the widow came to know that he had been guarding her for love her heart would melt toward him. But no robber came. Instead of that his footsteps awoke the widow, and, peering out, she saw some one walking about, and she got out a shotgun and raised a window and blazed away. The gun was loaded with bird shot to shoot hawks that might come swooping down on chickens, but in this case they answered just as well for a man. Ebenezer received about twenty of them and ran two miles to a doctor to have them picked out. He also had a vacation from work for a week under the excuse that he had sprained his back turning over in bed.

Ninety nine out of a hundred would be heroes would have given up the job right here, but Ebenezer was a man to hang on. It was while he was limping around on his vacation and doing a bit of standing up and wandering over the fields that he came upon the widow fishing in the river at a certain point. He did not show himself, but fifty feet from where she sat under a tree he discovered a bumblebee's nest in the grass. It was a large and liberal nest, and it gave him a thought. The bees wouldn't bother anybody so long as they were let alone. If stirred up they would look for meat. There was a haystack not far away, and Ebenezer had matches in his pocket. He retired behind the stack and collected a hatful of stones from the plowed land. These he threw one by one at the spot where the bees were pursuing the even tenor of their ways. The plot thickened. You can thicken a bumblebee plot in a very short time. All you've got to do is to tread on their coattails. When the insects found the rocks dropping on their heads they swarmed out of the grass to look for the enemy. They should have seen the widow and descended upon her, and at her first shriek Ebenezer would have come charging down with a wisp of lighted hay in either hand. But things went wrong. The bees then went for him alone. They ran him up and down the haystack, they ran him over fences and back, they ran him across lots and in circles, and when they finally left him and he fell down the widow came forward and asked:

"But why were you such a fool?"

"Be-cause I want you to marry me," he groaned in reply.

"Good lands! Why, I have been engaged to the sewing machine man for the last six months!"

Own Your Own Mind.

Have you ever considered the possibility of doing this? Remember that living in a rented mind; furnished with opinions bought on the installment plan, never offers any inducement with it for the future. Not only this, but you are not saving up anything.

The advantages of owning your own mind will be apparent at a moment's thought.

In the first place, you come to take a personal interest, which you do not feel when it is owned by some one else. Then again the natural increase in value redounds to your own profit. You have no one to dictate to you as to the inside furnishings and decorations. Besides, it makes you more particular with regard to what you put into it. If you live in a rented mind you don't care much. You will drive nails in the walls and get generally careless about it. But when you own your own mind you are constantly going around picking it up. You take real pride in it.

Be it ever so humble, there is no place like a mind that you own yourself.—Life.

Length of Dreams.

Three physicians were discussing the matter of the length of dreams.

"One afternoon," said one of them, "I called to see a patient, and, much to my satisfaction, I found him sleeping soundly. I sat by his bed, felt of his pulse without disturbing him and waited for him to awaken. After a few minutes a junk dealer's cart with discordant ringing bells turned into the street, and as their first tones reached us my patient opened his eyes.

"Doctor," he said, "I'm glad to see you and awfully glad that you woke me, for I have been tortured by a most distressing dream that must have lasted for several hours. I dreamed that I was sick, as I am, and that my boy came into the room with a string of most horribly sounding sleighbells and rang them in my ears, while I hadn't power to move or speak to him. I suffered tortures for what appeared to be an interminable time. I'm so glad you woke me."

"The ringing of those bells for one second had caused all of that dream and just at the waking moment."

Tough Turkey.

Mark Twain when he worked in Nevada on the Virginia City Enterprise inserted in the news a good many boarding house jokes.

In revenge the humorist's sensitive fellow boarders in Virginia City decided to put up a game on him. They enlisted the landlady's help, and at the Thanksgiving dinner at the boarding house Mark Twain by a dexterous piece of sleight of hand was served apparently direct from the fowl with a turkey leg of painted wood.

The humorist sawed away solemnly at the wooden leg for some time. Then he said to the landlady, with a smile: "You've changed your poultry dealer, haven't you, ma'am?"

"Why, no, Mr. Clemens," she replied. "What makes you think so?"

"This turkey," he answered, giving the wooden drumstick a little whack with his knife. "It's about the tenderest morsel I've struck in this house for some months."

A Modest Judge.

A certain prominent English jurist was transferred from the chancery court to the admiralty court rather unexpectedly. While conversant with English law to a surprising degree, this gentleman had spent little time in marine law and was rather dubious as to his ability to cope with the duties of his new office. His colleagues, in recognition of the occasion, gave him a dinner, after which he was called upon for an address. He made a long and serious speech, which embraced about everything from free trade to England's foreign policy. Then, pausing a moment, he glanced round the crowded room and said:

"Gentlemen, in closing I can think of no better words than the lines of Tennyson:

"And may there be no meaning of the bar When I put out to sea."

To Munch a Viper.

Though the prescription seems to have disappeared from the pharmacopoeia of modern "beauty specialists," it was for centuries notorious that to feed on snake meat was the way to win perpetual youth; to cure goiter, again, or any other swelling, all that was necessary was to munch a viper, from the tail up, as it might be a stick of celery, while yet another snake, if eaten, conferred the power of understanding all the tongues of birds.

Costly Counsel.

"I can understand all you have to say on the subject in an hour's time," said the judge.

"Beg pardon, your honor," persisted the young lawyer, "but I shall consume at least five hours in my argument."

"Very well; have it your own way," said the judge, with resignation. "But it will take the prisoner about five years to tell why he employed you." —Harper's Weekly.

Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn;
If you don't it won't be blown.
The people won't flock
To buy your stock
If you never make it known.

So, Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn;
It's the proper business caper,
And the very best way
To make it pay
Is to blow it through this paper.
